WILLHELP CLARA BARTON.

BESULT OF HER CONFERENCE WITH THE BELIEF COMMITTEE.

s Mapinius the Machinery and Aims of the Med Cross to the Mutire Satisfaction of the National Organization Mere, Which Mas Undertaken to Raise the Funds. Clara Barton, President of the American Na-stemal Red Cross, met the Executive Committee of the American National Red Cross Relief mmittee at the Chamber of Commerce building yesterday afternoon. She gave a beautiful and effective account of the Red Cross and its work. George Kennan, First Vice-President, and B. L. Cebb, counsel, both officers of the National Red Cross, attended the meeting. The members of the committee present were: William T. Wardwell, ex-Gov. Levi P. Morton, Gustav H. Schwab, Dr. George F. Shrady, Dr. A. Monal Leeser, A. S. Solomons, William Low for Alexander E. Orr, and John P. Faure, Secretary. Mr. Wardwell, who presided, presented Miss

There has been considerable speculation as to whether Miss Barton and the Relief Committee would find themselves in perfect harmony when they finally met, but all doubt on this point was removed yesterday. Mr. Faure said that in all his extensive experience in relief work he had mover seen more perfect unanimity of purpose, and that every man present would bew to this woman, who had given evidence of such earnestmess in her noble work.

In the course of her remarks Miss Barton said that, unhampered by elective committees in or-ganizing the Red Cross, she had called around her those who were tried and true and upon whom she could depend, those whom she leved and who loved her; she had gone into the field and done her work, and that the hands of the American people had always been outstretched to uphold her.

Mr. Low, on behalf of Mr. Orr, asked Miss Barton some questions about the Red Cross as an organization, which she answered to the entire satisfaction of all.

Mr. Cobb called special attention to the fact that a sea-going tug for use in Cuban waters and some small launches to aid in distributing food were greatly needed, and he spoke of Red Cross work generally, as did Mr. Kennan and Mr. Barton. Mr. Kennan has been the field with Miss Barton, and he dwelt on the perfect machinery of the organization, its carefulness of distribution, Its economy of administration, and its thorough method of keeping records of all doings. He declared that these features would characterize the handling of all supplies and funds turned ever to the National Association by the committee. To give an idea of the economy exercised, he said that recently the Montgomery had captured a Spanish ship off Key West loaded with jerked beef, which is a staple article of diet in hot countries. It usually sells for 20 cents a pound in Cuba, but the Red Cross bought it for 3 1-16 cents a pound and with it relieved about fifteen hundred reconcentrades They also purchased several schooner loads of live fish and gave them to the hungry people

The letter from Mrs. Paul Dana, Secretary of the Woman's Committee on Auxiliaries, in which she stated that the committee requested ing officers at the New York State camps to station a Red Cross officer at each camp to work under the medical director of the camp, was re read and received the hearty approval of all present. Stephen E. Barton was delegated to commu-nicate with the commanding officers, and if their sensent is given, a Red Cross agent equipped by the women's auxiliaries will be sent to each camp to supply sick soldiers with medical supblies, clothing, food, and other necessaries. As Miss Barton was leaving the meeting she maid to the reporters: "I am glad to have this opportunity to state personally my deep sense of gratitude for the support the Red Cross is receiving. We have had a most interesting and harmonious meeting. We perfectly understand each other. Nothing could be more agreeable than our relations. I am also glad of this opportunity to thank the press of New York for its attitude toward me and the Red Cross." Miss Barton will probably remain in town ser-eral days longer. Dr. John M. Billings was appointed to serve on the Advisory Medical Board, which will be

RED CROSS WOMEN CONFER

Representatives of the Various Auxiliaries Meet at Mrs. Butler Daucan's.

The Woman's Committee on Red Cross Aux fliaries met at Mrs. Butler Duncan's, 1 Fifth avenue, yesterday forenoon to hear the reports from the various auxiliaries that have been formed recently. Representatives were present from sixteen out of the twenty-four, making, with the committee, a gathering of about fifty enthusiastic women. Mrs. John Lyon Gardiner presided. Clara Barton was invited to be present and expressed a desire to attend, but was kept away by other important engagements.

The auxiliaries represented were the First Ambulance Equipment Red Cross Auxiliary, the Woman's Conference of Society for Ethica Culture Red Cross Auxiliary, the Trained Nurses' Maintenance Red Cross Auxiliary, the Yonkers Auxiliary, the Metcalf Bliss Hospital Cot Equipment Society, Columbia University Auxiliary, Council of Jewish Women Red Cross Auxiliary, Soldiers' Field Hospital Red Cross Auxiliary, Mobican Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution Red Cross Auxiliary, Sing Sing: Morristown, N. J., Red Cross Auxiliary Flushing, L. I., Auxiliary; Litchfield, Conn., Red Cross Auxiliary; Steam Laundry Plant Red Cross Auxiliary, West Side Auxiliary, Land and Sea Auxiliary, and the Princeton, N. J., Red Cross Auxiliary. Most of these auxiliaries were represented by their Presidents, but some of them sent several officers.

The reports indicated that each one of the as sociations is doing its work well and promptly. All reported that they would be ready to deliver a part of the articles pledged by the middle of June, and some are ready to do so now.

The West Side Auxiliary, No. 20, is a new one, and is engaged in providing material for towels, sheets, and the like. Mrs. Charles It. Shaw, 130 West Seventy-fifth street, is its Chairman. No. 22, the Land and Sea Auxiliary at New Rochelle, is also a new one. Mrs. Frank K. Hunter is the President, and Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin and Mrs. James M. Waterbury officers. No. 24, the Princeton society. is presided over by Mrs. Junius Morgan. Mrs. William E. D. Scott and Mrs. Lawrence Hulton are also officers. A flourishing auxiliary, No. 23. has also been formed on Staten Island, with Miss Mary Myrick of Fort Wadsworth at

The Central Committee is receiving letters from all over the country from ladics wishing to form auxiliaries. The question is often asked whether these auxiliaries buy the articles they pledge and store them or not. They do not; they pledge and store them or not. They do not; they raise the fun is and hold them in readiness to which arrived from Australia to-day, brought $2,500,000 in sovereigns.

THE DEST STATEMENT.

Increase in the Month of May of $10,841,108,

WASHINGTON, June 1 .- The debt statement issued from the Tressury Department to-day shows that in the month of Mar the debt of the United States increased $19,341,108. The debt bearing no interest and on which interest has ceased since maturity was reduced $715,099; interest-bearing debt increased $400, and there was a decrease of $20,035,807 in the cash in the Treasury. The debt on May 31 stood as follows: Interest-bearing debt, $847,367,410; debt on which interest has ceased, $1,264,850; debt bearing no interest, $384,896,315. Total, #1,233,529,575.

The cash in the Treasury is made up of the following items: Gold, $207,701,264; silver, $514,072,039; paper, $69,489,368; other cash, $29.807.098. Total, $821.070.389.

Against this there are outstanding: Gold cer tificates, $37,486,149; silver certificates, $397, 732,504; certificates of deposit, act of June 8

732,504; certificates of deposit, act of June 8, 1872, $26,600,000; Treasury notes, 1890, $101,981,200; other liabilities, $61,515,621, leaving a balance, including $100,000,000 gold reserve, of $195,754,815.

This was the first time for many months that the cash balance fell below $200,000,000, due to the heavy expenditures on account of the war. The receipts of the Government for the month of May were $30,074,818, against $29,797,390 for the same month last year, and the expenditures were $47,849,909, against $29,109,299 in May, 1897. The delicit for the month amounted to $17,775,091. For the eleven months of the fiscal year the receipts were $371,001,768, against $310,600,020 for the similar period last year, and the expenditures were $395,501,768, against $342,873,141 for the eleven months ended May $1,1897, leaving a deficit of $24,521,337, against one of $32,273,121 at the same date last year. The extraordinary expenses on account of the war aggregated $44,522,747, which is more than offset by the increase in miscellaneous receipts from the Pacific Railroad sale.

MENOCAL FOUND GUILTY.

He Is Sentenced to Suspension for Three Years

WASHINGTON, June 1.- The Navy Department to-day made public the findings in the case of Civil Engineer Anecito G. Menocal, U. S. N., tried by a court-martial consisting of Admiral A. E. K. Benham, retired, and eight other officers, on charges concerning his superintendency of the work on dry dock No. 3 at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. Mr. Menocal was charged with two offences, culpable inefficiency in the performance of duty and neglect of duty. He was convicted of both charges and sentenced to suspension on furlough pay for three years. The court struck out the word "culpable" in the first charge, and found that Mr. Menocal was guilty of inefficiency in the performance of "guilty of inefficiency in the performance of duty." Eight of the nine members of the court united in a recommendation of clemency. Secretary Long has not acted on the findings.

Officers of the Judge Advocate General's office say that the fact that the period of suspension will extend over the date on which Mr. Menocal will be retired from active service on account of age will not compel the Navy Department to drop him from the naval service. They have found no law covering the case. In the army, an officer under suspension is dropped from the rolls and ceases to be aservant of the Government if the period of suspension extends beyond the time of his retirement. A case in point was that of Gen. Swaim, Judge Advocate General of the Army, He was sentenced to suspension from rank and duty for twelve years, a longor time than he had to serve on the active list. Just before he reached the retiring age, President Cleveland restored him to duty and his retirement followed. By this means he was able to receive retired pay. Otherwise he would have ceased to hold a commission in the army.

LOST EN BOUTE TO THE YUKON

Drowned on the Lady Jane Grey. HARRISBURG, Pa., June 1.-Information reached here to-day in a private telegram of the drowning of Frank W. Ginther, a well-known railway postal clerk, by the foundering of the Lady Jane Grey on the way to Alaska. The ac-cident occurred on May 22 off Cape Flattery, and only twenty-seven of the sixty-one pas-sengers were saved. George Hiller, Jr., and Ginther, both of Harrisburg, left for the Klon-dike about six weeks ago. Hiller's mother recelved this telegram to-day from her son, dated Vancouver:

"I am safe. Vessel foundered. Ginther lost." Another member of the party was P. J. Davenport. Ginther was a popular postal clerk and had been in the service many years, but gave up his job to hunt for gold. He was a director in a Klondike company organized here.

THIRTY-SEVEN LIVES LOST. Two Steamships Wrecked in a Great Gale Off the Coast of Australia.

San Francisco, June 1.-The Australian steamer Moana, which arrived to-day, brings the first details of the wreck of the steamers Maitland and Merksmorth off the coast of New South Wales with a loss of thirty-seven lives. A great gale swept the coast on the night of May 7. The passenger steamer Maitland soon after leaving Sydney harbor was struck by huge eas, and it became necessary to throw over board the cargo to keep the vessel from foundering. Heavy seas were shipped, and soon the fires were extinguished. Immediately after the vessel struck on a rock and waves began to break over her. Soon she parted amidships, and the crew and steerage passengers who were forward went down and were lost.

Those left on the after part of the vessel were near shore, but the sea was so terrific that no one could be saved without a line. After two ailors had failed to take a line ashore a passenger succeeded in doing so, and then the women and children were passed first over the line. Finally, when three men and the stewardess were on the rope, it broke, and all except one man, the third engineer, were drowned,

The Captain, three firemen, the boatswain and baby, 2 years old, were left on the wreck, The baby's mother had been saved. The men wrapped themselves in blankets and the Captain and boatswain took turns in caring for the baby. The next morning a lifeboat crew got a line to the vessel and all crossed in safety, the boatswaintaking the baby, strapped to his back. The mother stood on the shore while the baby was being taken across. When the child was safely landed the crowd set up a big cheer.

The steam collier Merksmorth was wrecked on the same night near New Castle, and nine of the twelve men on board perished. The vessel foundered suddenly, but the Captain and crow escaped in the lifeboat. The sea was so high that the boat was capsized again and again, and four men were drowned. Five others, including the Captain, died of exhaustion in the local. The three survivors, after being lifteen hours in the open boat, were washed ashore and rescued. The baby's mother had been saved. The men

HAWAII'S OPIUM BILL.

The Government Will Supply Optum Smokers at a Price That Will Mill Smuggiing. HONOLULU, May 25, via San Francisco, June .- The new oplum bill passed by the Senate places the handling of all opium imported into he country primarily in the Board of Health, which distributes it to the various districts in the quantities needed. In each district there is an opium board, which grants permits to smoke pium. To those obtaining these permits opium opium. To those obtaining these permits opium is supplied daily in small doses at a price which effectually puts an end to smuggling.

The bill also repeals the act under which the police and informers receive half the fines imposed on opium smokers, and puts an end to the business of putting up jobs on innocent Chinese. A prominent Chinese merchant, to whom the bill was submitted for consideration, said that it would at once put an end to smuggling and it would at once put an end to smuggling and t would at once put an end to smuggling and ose the doors of every Chinese opium joint in unter Quay Had to Change Hetween W. A.

QUAY IS FOR W. A. STONE.

THE PUZZLE IN TO-DAY'S CONVEN-IION IN HARRISBURG.

Stone and Charles W. Stone, Both Congressmen, to Nominate for Governor John Wannamaker Considered Out of the Fight HARRISBURG, Pa., June 1 .- Senutor Quay is facing the strongest combination of adverse circumstances which has ever confronted him on the eve of a State convention. His friends are divided between two leading candidates for Governor at the convention to-morrow. They are both of the same name, and both members of Congress. He would be a happy man with either Col. William A. Stone or Charles W. Stone, but he had to make a decision, and he has decided for William. The Senator got here from Washington at midnight last night, and managed to get a good sleep at a friend's house, but this morning the protesting brigade be-sleged the house and began operations. Congressmen from close districts, legislators in doubtful counties and local leaders all came to pour into the Senator's ear complaints about the selection of W. A. Stone for Governor. They told him frankly that he was doing an unwise thing, in that while Stone might be elected, the Legislature would be so made up as to make impossible his own reëlection to the United States Senate. He beard these protests and his worry increased as the day grew older.

"I am between the devil and the deep sea," he remarked to one protesting caller, who is an influential Quay man. "If I do not consent to Col. Stone's nomination I am censured, and if I influential Quay man. "If I do not consent to Col. Stone's nomination I am censured, and if I do there is censure anyway."

Charles W. Stone, however, is making a great fight, and his workers comprise many of the most powerful leaders in the State. Col. W. A. Stone's boomers say he will have from 193 are necessary to a choice. The indications to-night are that this ticket will win: For Governor, W. A. Stone, Allegheny; Lieutenant-Governor, Gen. J. P. S. Gobin, Lebanon; Secretary of Internal Affairs, Gen. James W. Latta, Philadelphia; Judge Superior Court, William Porter, Philadelphia; Jougressmen-at-large, Galusha A. Grow of Susquehanna and S. A. Davenport of Eric.

At midnight the C. W. Stone managers say that W. A. Stone will not have more than 148 on the first ballot and that he is sure to be defeated. Senator Penrose will be the temporary Chairman and Major Alex McDovell, Clerk of the House at Washington, permanent Chairman,
The Wanamaker headquarters have been vis-man. The Wanamaker headquarters have been vislted by hundreds of people to-day. The former Postmaster-General is fighting Quay and he will not cease his opposition. He says it means a battle to the end, whether the end is the next session of the Legislature or in the more remote future. Some persons think Wanamaker will be an independent candidate for Governor.

OMAHA'S EXPOSITION OPEN.

Sent a Telegram of Congratulation. OMARA, Neb., June 1 .- The Trans-Mississippi Exposition was opened to-day. President Mc-Kinley started the machinery by touching an electric button in the White House at Washing-

At 10 o'clock this morning the procession was formed in this city and started for the Exposition grounds. It included fifty bands, the Exposition officials and their guests, city and State officials of Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas and Colorado, civil and military societies and a number of decorated floats. It was three miles long, and it is estimated that 200,000 looked at it.

Upon the procession's arriving at the Court of Honor, at a signal from President Wattles all the bands played "America" in concert. The Rev. Dr. Samuel J. Nichols of St. Louis delivered the prayer. President Wattles made a

Rev. Dr. Samuel J. Nichols of St. Louis delivered the prayer. President Wattles made a short address, and John N. Baldwin of Council Bluffs and John L. Webster of Omaha were the orators of the day.

Washington, June 1.—President McKinley, shortly after 1 o clock this atternoon, touched the button in the telegraph room at the White House and set in motion the machinery of the Omaha Exposition. The Nebraska delegation in Congress witnessed the brief ceremony. Immediately after opening the Exposition, the President telegraphed the following message:

"Hon, Gurdon W. Wattles, President Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition, Omaha, Neb."

"The cordiality of the invitation extended to me to be present at the opening of your great Exposition is deeply appreciated, and I more deeply regret that public duties prevent me from leaving the capital at this time.

"The events of the memorable half century which the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition commemorates are interwoven with the history of the whole nation and are of surpassing importance. The mighty West affords most striking evidences of the splendid achievements and possibilities of our people, It is a matchless tribute to the energy and endurance of the pioneer, while its vast agricultural development, its progress in manufactures, its advancement in the arts and sciences and in all departments of education and endeavor, have been inestimable contributions to the civilization and wealth of the world.

PRIMARIES MAY BE LIVELY. Breckiya Republicans to Indorec Lieut. - Gay.

Wondruff. There will be some lively contests among the Republicans in Brooklyn at the initial test of the new primary law next Tuesday night, and the indications are that few of the 27,000 enrolled members of the organization will be absent from the polls. Most of the Assembly district committees have already held caucuses, and in the majority of cases it has been decided to run only one ticket. An effort made by ex-Sheriff William J. Buttling and other retainers of the Hon. Jacob Worth to stir up trouble for Lieut.-Gov. Timothy L. Woodruff in his home district on the Park slope with a view to weaken him generally in his candidacy for renomina tion has miscarried. At a caucus of the Republicans of the Twenty

At a caucus of the Republicans of the Twentysecond ward on Tuesday night it was decided to indorse Mr. Woodruff and to send a delegation from the district to the State Convention pledged to support him. William A. Prendergast, who nominated Mr. Woodruff at the last convention, and Silas B. Dutcher, who is also a firm friend of the Lieutenant-flovernor, were named as two of the delegates. There have been no defectious from Mr. Woodruff in other directions, and it is predicted by his friends that he will have aimost the solid support of the Kings county organization.
The sharpest fight is for control of the Twentythird, one of the Republican strongholds in the county. Chairman Walter B. Atterbury of the County Committee has been the leader of the ward three or four years, and is likely to remain so another year in spite of a powerful combination which has been formed to down him. His chief opponents include Postmaster Wilson, Revenue Collector Moore and ex-Collector Ernest Nathan, who has been in political of Mr. Wilson loward Mr. Atterbury has caused surprise in political circles, as it was directly through the latter's efforts at Washington that Mr. Wilson landed the Postmastership. The vounger element in the party is rallying to the support of Mr. Atterbury, and they predict his victory over the Wilson-Moore Nathan combine.
Naval Officer Robert A. Sharkey has also a
